Go on... treat yourself to the relaxation you deserve.

Tribal Essence is about getting back to basics using rich, wholesome ingredients provided by Mother Nature. Mood enhancing essential oils, rich earthy organic clays, nourishing African cocoa butter and luxurious Amazonian nut oil just to name a few. At Tribal Essence, we have developed a range of products to pamper you. Gentle and soothing, nourishing and luxurious.

I invite you to look through this mini-catalogue of our revitalising products and treat yourself to some well-deserved personal luxury.

Michelle Streeten-Lee
Co-Founder, Tribal Essence

My young daughter suffers from, shall we say 'hyperactivity', or maybe a more accurate assessment would be that I suffer from my daughter's hyperactivity. Nearly a year ago now I purchased Tribal Earth Luxurious Bath Melt. My daughter rarely takes baths, but on this occasion she was in there for nearly an hour and a half! After finally emerging, I didn't know this relaxed, sedate child who ate her dinner, watched a bit of TV and went to bed on her own without being told! I am absolutely amazed!

Soothing and refreshing with a touch of luxury...

My twin teenage girls just about drove my husband and I up the wall with their continuous complaining and moodiness at their time of the month. What made it worse was that one always followed the other. I was on a quest. This could not go on or I would quite frankly lose my mind. I hunted high and low for something, anything that would give the whole family relief. Fortunately I found my saviour, Tribal Essence Period Pain Massage Balm. Sceptical at first but desperate, I bought it no questions asked. "Please be it" I said as I walked out.

Oh my God! The usual symptoms (and ladies, you know what I'm talking about) were significantly reduced.

T. E. you have saved our sanity!
